CHARLIE BROWN DRAFTED INTO TROJAN FORCES

Hot Springs, September 8—Trojan warriors today were called into battle. At eight-thirty this morning an attack was launched against the high school by enemy forces led by FRUSTRATION, IGNORANCE, and INTOLERANCE.

Among the many fighters drafted into the Trojan Army was Charlie Brown.

After all the boys had finished their physicals and all reports had been checked, it was found that Charlie Brown was the LITTLEST TROJAN.

Trojan leaders are now wondering what one small warrior can do at such a time in such a conflict.

On January 29, 1929, was born a man destined to be great in a special way. Life opened many doors to him, but he entered under the portal of education. As a teacher and friend, he has become an inspiration to those who know him--a guiding star to those who trust in him. They love him. They respect him. They are humbled by his presence, for they know that he stands as only a true Trojan can.

Board of Education

The Hot Springs Board of Education continually strives to improve the welfare of the schools by capable service and progressive ideas. Through co-operation between an efficient school board, competent advisers, a well-prepared faculty, and an interested citizens' committee, high standards have been maintained.

The present board is made up of five businessmen and a woman. Each is willing to do his part to keep the schools in our system a credit to the community.

Dr. Bruce...

IMON E. BRUCE
Superintendent
Ed. D., Indiana University

Throughout your high school days you have been reminded many times that the interest of the individual in many instances must be subordinated to the best interest of the group. Sometimes you have had to give up what appeared to be your own personal interest with an explanation that such sacrifices are necessary for your own development. The value of such training should be recognized by all of you.

Nevertheless, it should also be recognized that the individual is the important element in the group. The group's work can be measured only in terms of the work of individuals. As you accept responsibilities in this complex society of ours and as you become a part of various groups, I hope that you will keep in mind the importance of the individual. In the long run your contribution to the groups to which you belong and with which you work will depend on you as an individual.

As you remember the value of the individual, may you also remember the worth of quality when there is a demand for quantity. Small businesses and industries continue to combine in larger corporations, making it difficult to maintain good personal relationships. Our society, which seems to demand bigness, needs quality in every area of human endeavor.

As you leave Hot Springs High School, my desire for you is that you place quality above quantity, that you remember that an individual is most important, and that while you work in groups you keep in mind what is best for the individuals in the group.

Queens, their escorts, and the crown bearers.

Trojan football royalty honored at game, dance

The rustle of corduroy skirts filled the auditorium as the reigning football royalty entered the room. A sense of pride and happiness was felt by every member of the student body as the queens and maids entered. Black and gold mingled with purple and white to form a colorful setting in which to crown the beautiful queens. No rivalry was felt at this time, although that night the Trojans would battle it out with the Wildcats of El Dorado.

After the game a dance was given in honor of the queens and maids. A band lent festivity to the atmosphere and added dignity to the crowning ceremony. The formals with their many layers of net and tiers of lace created in their wearers a fitting regal mood. The beauty of these gowns was outdone only by the radiant beauty of the ladies of the court. The queens received their mammoth clusters of flowers; and the first dance, especially for the royal court, began. Boys flocked to be one of those honored to dance with the queens. The royalty reigned graciously throughout the dance, making it a day everyone would remember.

Members of the court enjoy the dance after the game.

Trojan Queen Linda Lewallen as she goes to her throne.

Going to her place of honor is El Dorado Queen Carole Harper.

The presentation at the dance is quite impressive.

Everyone turns out for pep rallies.

Spirits soar high

Thanksgiving sharing warms heart of givers

Presenting their Thanksgiving baskets are Burt Creasey, Linda Swaney, Donnie Scott, and Jody Agre.

"Shout hurray for Thanksgiving Day!" Thanks to the efforts of the National Honor Society and the generous co-operation of the student body, the many good things to eat described by the Troubadours will be enjoyed by numerous needy families.

This colorful, yet most solemn, assembly was one of the most popular of the year. Students were able to demonstrate their creative ability through their food-filled baskets, and a prize was given to the best one. The home rooms outdid themselves, and the baskets became more and more elaborate. The Troubadours expressed the light side of Thanksgiving with the enjoyable and familiar "Grandma's Thanksgiving." This was followed by a talk and prayer given by a visiting minister.

After the assembly the food was distributed to the various families. All who participated in this agreed that it's good to give.

First prize goes to Mrs. Brennes' Homeroom basket, decorated by Clifford Lambert, Mary Alice Gaither, Theresa Raymond.

Thanksgiving assembly wouldn't be complete if the Troubadours didn't sing "Grandma's Thanksgiving."

Basketball homecoming a gala event

Queen Sue Christian and Queen
Jerrie Ann McAdoo receive crowns.

Escorted the length of the field house by Tommy Conly is Queen Sue Christian.

A hush filled the auditorium as the band played "Fanfare." This was the cue for the 1959 basketball homecoming royalty to enter the auditorium, and the procession was truly impressive. The stage in Trojan black and gold and Pine Bluff red and white had been beautifully decorated by diligent workers in the Pep Squad. Trojan maids and escorts entered from the left, and Pine Bluff from the right. After they had taken their places, the Pine Bluff and Hot Springs homecoming queens approached the stage amidst cheers from the student body. After they had been crowned, the cheerleaders honored the royalty with a cheer.

This ceremony was repeated at night in the field house, and the royalty took their seats of honor on the stage to watch the Trojans battle it out with Pine Bluff.

As a finishing touch a dance was given in the high school gym to honor the basketball queens and maids.

Everyone turns out for the Homecoming Dance.

King's makeup must be perfect. Angie Confer gives a finishing touch to Hal Melton.

Christmas festivities

The Nativity is impressively portrayed by Loretta Anderson, Bobby Sitek, Teresa Raymond, and Nina Wing.

Santa is mobbed when his helper reads a letter from the physics class.

"Deck the hall with boughs of holly"—and the doors as well, for utmost imagination is demonstrated in these ingenious decorations, both festive and religious. For further Yuletide air, step into the auditorium. On the way, notice the Student Council's gigantic tree, dressed from tip to toe in twinkling lights, colorful balls, and glistening icicles. In the auditorium the greenery adorning the stage and balcony provides a proper setting for the impressive pageantry of the Candlelight Service, dramatized by the Speech Department with accompaniment by the chorus.

Now, who is that pudgy old gentleman on the stage? Why, that's Santa with his little round belly that looks suspiciously like a feather pillow. Both he and his pointed-toed helper are busy reading letters and granting wishes to every student and teacher, the main wish being—a very Merry Christmas and a most Happy New Year to everyone!

Troubadours' mosaic angel wins first prize for a religious theme.

Mrs. Housley's Home Room wins first prize for a secular theme with Woodland Scene in a shadow box.

"You can have my oatmeal any day," Penelope Reardon tells her unusual uncle.

Junior Class presents EVERY FAMILY HAS ONE

When a normal (?) American family attempts to become sophisticated and high class to impress a wealthy, sophisticated family, one can only begin to estimate the hilarious situations occurring when mentally unbalanced relatives of the first family appear on the scene.

Hilarious comedy swept the auditorium as the Thespians brought their annual play to the stage. Frank Watron's "In Case of Murder" was a howling success.

Four murders entangle the lives of Emily and George Newcombe when his television mystery comes to life. To further complicate their lives is their meddlesome next door neighbor, Orville Sanders.

It was mystery and comedy at its best.

Possessors of HSHS hearts honored in Valentine assembly

In February HSHS lightly turned to thoughts of love. An air of sweetness and gentility filled the school as its heart was captured by the King and Queen of Hearts.

The ladies of the royal court donned crimson gowns which caught the eye and brought cheerfulness and gaiety to the spirit. For this rare occasion even the men of the court "dressed up" in white dinner jackets.

The crowning touch was the Sweetheart Dance, sponsored by the Future Teachers. The night was soon over, but the memory lingers on.

Popular week for girls and Twirps

This week was every girl's chance to meet that cute boy in her history class. She might ask him out and not worry about appearing forward, for this was Twirp Week. This was the week when the fairer sex would do openly what they do very coyly the other fifty-one of the year; that is, be the stronger half. The gals toted the books, opened the doors, and footed the bill; but there was compensation to this for our female friends. The boy of every girl's dreams, who had never noticed she existed, might very likely awaken to find her a very pleasing person.

The Twirp dances at noon added interest to the week, and the gyrations of male and female schoolmates caused much activity on the dance floor.

The close of the week found many new friendships and much poorer girls who appreciated not being the permanent breadwinner.

Good citizenship shown in HSHS

Civic Week is a yearly project for the Student Council giving emphasis to the traits desired for all students and citizens.

Each day has its specific label: Sunday is Go to Church Day, and everyone was invited to attend the First Presbyterian Church; Monday, Courtesy Day, when politeness reigned; Tuesday, Teacher Appreciation Day, and to show their appreciation the Student Council gave the teachers apples and everyone was especially considerate; Wednesday, Patriotic Day, which started with the student body attending the flag raising in front of the school; Thursday, Clean-up Day, and all the lockers got thorough cleanings; and Friday, Be Prepared (with lessons) Day.

Results of this week were good; and as a finale, teachers made no homework assignments for the week end.

Old Glory rises before reverent students on Patriotic Day.

Teachers eat polished apples on Teacher Appreciation Day.

Somebody goofed on Clean-up Day.

"After me!" You'd scarcely recognize these boys on Courtesy Day.

In consultation in the office are Principals Sanders and Sanders with Assistant Principals Mackey and McAdoo.

Which was the most exhausting day of the school year? All who taught on Student Administration Day will agree that this day deserves the title. They will also agree that it was the most gratifying.

School board members were first elected by the student body. Then applications for various positions began pouring in to them. They interviewed each applicant. Finally all positions were filled, and for the first time the grade schools also had student teachers.

The experience and insight gained in addition to the fun were worth every pair of aching feet.

Student Council Officers elected for next year

Unique wallpaper covered HSHS's walls for one week. Everywhere a person looked, he saw posters plastered on the walls so thickly that the walls were quite invisible. In addition to this, everyone was handing out cards and bookmarks to everyone else.

The cause of the beautiful confusion was Student Council elections. Nomination of candidates for offices was made through the home rooms, and anyone else presenting a petition signed by one hundred people might get his name on the ballot.

After a week of active campaigning by means of posters, cards, bookmarks, catchy slogans and speeches in assembly, everybody went to the polls.

The first ballot decided the vice-president and the secretary; the next morning a run-off selected the president and the treasurer. The voters had spoken, and everybody was satisfied.

Nebish fascinating Linda Swaney is only one of the strange shapes and creatures peering down from HS HS walls to promote certain candidates.

Varied and entertaining assemblies

"Please stand for the pledge of allegiance." These very familiar words still ring in our ears, for each assembly opened with the Student Council vice-president's leading the student body in the pledge of allegiance.

Fun, talent, and seriousness—all were wrapped into one year. Whether based on different types of entertainment, on patriotism, or on a religious theme, the assemblies have enriched both our school lives and our personal lives.

Several home rooms and other organizations of Hot Springs High School sponsored the various programs.

Charleston, Charleston—Anchor Club girls Susan Goltz, Peggy Rogers, Jody Agre, and Sonia Henninger really do a mean step. Nancy Moss just came along for a lesson.

Apple-bobbing makes Halloween complete. Melanie is so dainty!

Hula dancers David Greenbe, Jimmy Watts, and Jimmy Davis compete with a true hula dancer. They win—the applause!

Veterans' Day brings an inspiring patriotic assembly.

ring much pleasure

Hilarious pantomime is done by Bill Pate, Mickey Miller, Don Short, Stan Sanders, and Sister Sue at the piano.

Hula hoops, they say, will even take off inches. Coach Duncan is experimenting.

Most spirited and self supporting of the assemblies during the year is the Polio Auction, sponsored by the D. E. Club.

Art, music, and words of inspiration from Reverend James A. Fairchild instill a spirit of reverence in the assembly.

Former student Reverend Gaines N. Armstrong brings an Easter message to the Easter assembly. Others participating in the program are Betty Shirley, Linda Gibson, Perry Holmes, and Bennv Combs.

Dances are special events in school life, and Football Homecoming dance is one of the best.

Teas, dances, banquets--big social events

Hot Springs NHS members prepare to register delegates to the state convention.

Grass on the front grounds took a beating this year. This time it's from pyramids. There are many falls and hard knocks, but that makes it even more fun.

Little things leave lasting impressions

Epidemics are a yearly affair in our high school. This spring the flu took almost one third of the school's population. The office was swamped with excuses when the recovered victims lined up for permits on Monday morning.

HSHS is never behind the times. Any of the latest crazes can be found around our halls—for example, this phone booth. No one knows how many are in it, but we hope to break all records.

Morning routine is completed with lunch at Lance's.

Spring is here, and this crowd has the next best thing to a picnic.

Workers in the cafeteria are kept busy.

Lunch--a happy break in busy school days

Eating is only a small part of the varied activities of HSHS students during lunch period.

During this brief time they gather bits of spicy gossip, run errands, begin or patch up lovers quarrels, hastily finish lessons, or cram for a fourth-period test.

The favorite hangouts are as varied as the activities. Many eat in the school cafeteria; but for those who enjoy boisterous crowds, Lance's has a special appeal; and many nature lovers find the wall a pleasant rendezvous. The more energetic students walk downtown; the lucky ones with cars may go out to dine.

Near the close of lunch period everyone reluctantly arrives back at school, and the halls overflow with people hanging over the banisters or just standing around lockers and talking. Couples usually sit in the auditorium, but eventually that terrible bell rings and the classrooms once again become full of perhaps stuffed but more relaxed students.

Early for lunch, David Robinson has first chance at the steaming trays in the cafeteria.

Principal reminds students of their purpose in school

O Thestorides, of the many things hidden from the knowledge of man, nothing is more unintelligible than the human heart.

— — Homer

Let us remind ourselves that our strength lies in all of our students, that each of us has a purpose to fulfill in our school life. We must endeavor to find in each of our fellow students the fine qualities of strength, sense of devotion to the purpose of life, and beauty of inexpressible magnitude.

It is always possible to see the hidden values of the individual if we ourselves are in tune with the infinite greatness of a human being. Sometimes in our eagerness to get ahead, we overlook some of the finer qualities of our associates. Our most important people are those who make the greatest contributions to our school life in a seemingly unnoticed way. We should not forget that we are all creatures of the Infinite, created with dignity, worth, and an ultimate destiny for the good of all mankind.

The pages of the history of the world are filled with the deeds of unknown, unnamed people who have met their obligations to humanity without ever having received credit for their outstanding devotion to duty and loyalty to mankind.

Therefore, may we be more careful to search and find in each student the fine inherent qualities that will cause us to magnify human personality in all its aspects.

Office is hub of activity for HSHS

Have you ever been to the office? That's a silly question—of course, you have. There Mrs. Mullins gave you a permit to class, or Mrs. Lacy gave you a receipt or maybe an aspirin.

Perhaps you needed to check out. Then you had to go into the cubbyhole that is Mrs. Mackey's office. There you learned that she is interested in everything that is of interest to students. It is from that small office, you found out later, that all the activities of HSHS are directed.

Sometimes you simply used the office as an information booth. At this time you sought the aid of a fellow student who was acting as a much-needed assistant.

With all of the nice things that go on there, tell us—what is so terrible about being sent to the office?

Students with their studies and troubles

HSHS offers a varied curriculum to the students, and to teach the subjects there is a wonderful faculty of well-trained educators.

The faculty isn't just a group of people who sit behind desks all day making horrid assignments and trying to think of new ways of diverting more of our leisure hours into study. They are a group of warm, friendly people who are here to help the students learn.

They do their best to make our high school the best for us. Many of them sponsor various clubs, and others work with the sophomore, junior, and senior classes. In this capacity they negotiate through the office for us to have cake sales, dances, or to make trips.

Counseling us when we need to talk to some-

Well-trained educators are interested in giving

one is an unofficial job that they are all willing to do.

When we have dances or plays and need chaperones and ticket takers, the teachers are willing to be there no matter how tired or busy they are.

Some students have no way to get to school. Here again the teachers are of assistance. A caravan of teacher-driven buses bring passengers from all parts of the school district.

Teachers are often considered to be the nemesis of every student; but when the truth is known, they are the blessing of every student. They may assign horrible lessons and give dreadful tests, but this is their job—to train our minds. It's the little extras we love them for.

ARMISTICE DECLARED

Hot Springs, May 29—The present war will never end, but a three months' armistice has been declared. When the Trojans stopped to review their gains before rallying forces for another year, they discovered these truths:

FRUSTRATION is demoralizing, but it need not stalemate progress.

IGNORANCE is an opiate to the indolent, a challenge to the alert.

INTOLERANCE blinds its followers to a true perspective of the worth of human beings. In a democratic society the little man is as important as the big. He is the majority. Every big man was first a little man, but the important fact is that he grew: he did not remain little. The world needs people like Charlie Brown—the LITTLEST TROJAN.

Good training for tomorrow's jobs

Book cabinets for the new junior high school are the work of wood shop boys—Bobby Sitek, Richard Gwen, and Mickey McGuire.

Students with a yearning for the printing profession receive training in this valuable course from Mr. Howell. At the same time they manage to put out such items as the TORCHLIGHT and school supplies, as well as undertake other projects during the year.

With deft motions, the girls taking beauticians' and manicurists' training practice their art. Taught by Mrs. Louise Jones, these classes are held at the Hot Springs Beauty College in the morning and afternoon and on Saturday.

The smell of sawdust and paint pervades the air! This can only mean that Mr. Hull's woodshop students are busy again. They become skilled in making cabinets, shelves, and other projects. These shop classes are held daily at the Gorge.

Learning to style hair is invaluable to students of cosmetology—Verna Shuffield and Pat Johnson.

Muscles developed in boys' PE classes

The sound of bones grinding together and groans of pain—these are the noises from the boys' gym classes. For three periods each day Coach Haynie spends his time striving to perfect the physical condition of the boys who are enrolled in his course.

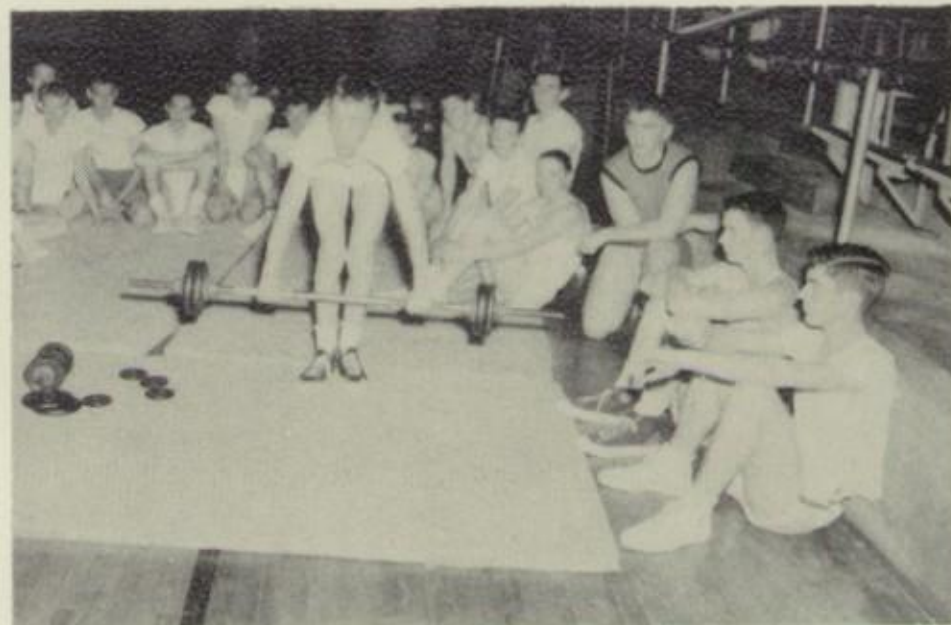

Backbends, kneebends, and push-ups are the early hazards of the young fellows striving to make themselves better men. Having mastered these exercises, the boys look forward to the day when they can take part in the games of skill and dexterity, such as tumbling, volleyball, wrestling, basketball, football, and dodgeball. Learning the rules and regulations of each of the games helps them realize the importance of leadership, co-operation, honesty, and the sense of fair play.

Thus, not only do the students grow in physical development, but also they grow in moral and character development. This leads to better understanding and tends to encourage sportsmanlike attitude toward their fellow classmates.

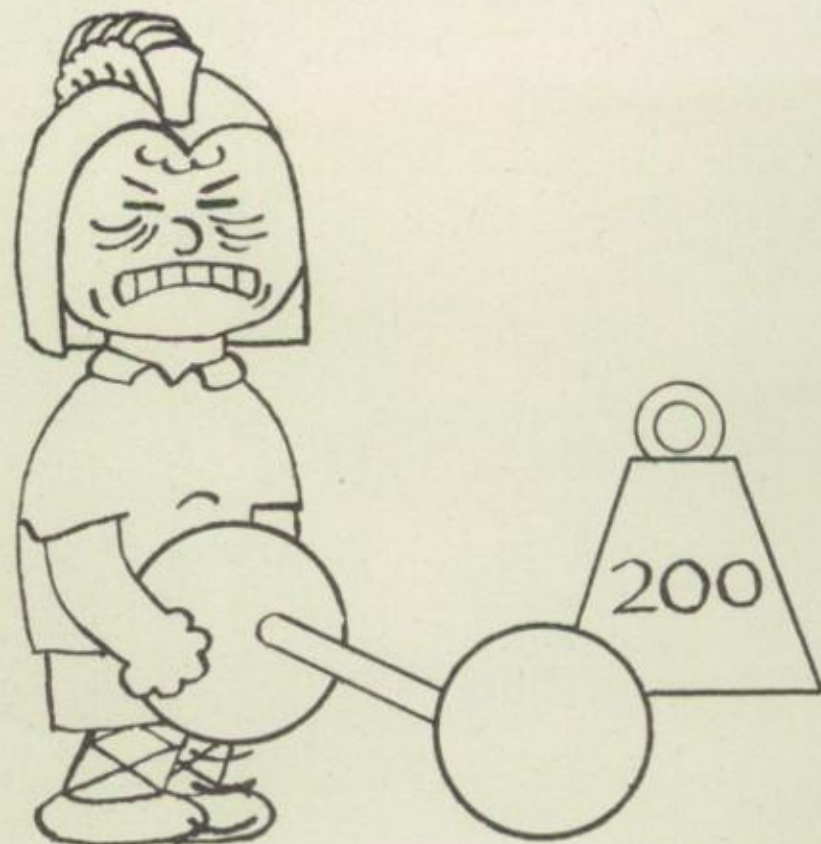

Looking down the hard way is Bert Creasey.

Getting warmed up for harder things to come.

"Lifting—I'm putting it down!" says Karl Keppler.

Swimming lessons are appreciated by many girls.

What would happen if a mouse ran through?

This mixup is called dancing?

Learning how to save valuable lives and limbs are Claudia Borman, Roxanna Mills, Linda Stewart, Sharon Holt, Lavonna Ledbetter.

Girls work to keep their figures trim

Exciting activities take place in our girls' gym. The lively musical strains filling the halls lend a hint to the fun inside as Miss Cooper gives instruction on the intricate steps of various folk dances. Many girls learn to do with skill the various dances they have so often watched.

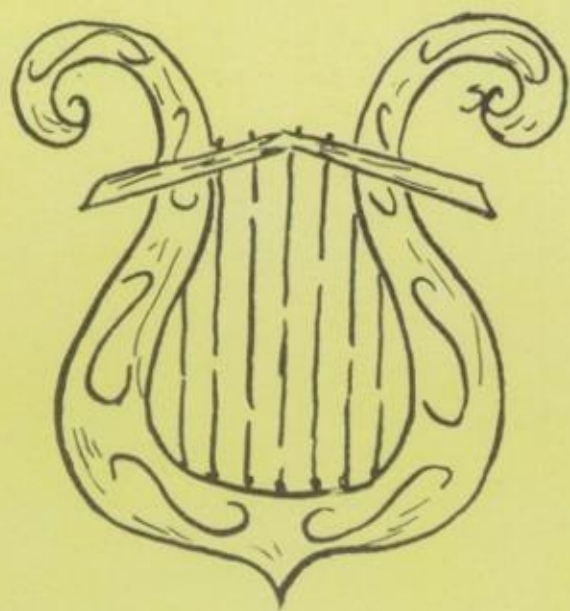

The game of golf has its season, as do volleyball, basketball, and tennis. These girls soon realize that a knowledge of sports is an asset to an attractive personality.

Water safety, too, is part of the curriculum of girls' gym. The importance of life saving cannot be overemphasized in a resort where water sports play such a big role.

To take the kinks out of their joints, the girls master tumbling; and truly amazing are the various feats performed in girls' gym.

The Student Council is the organization to which a student may bring his headaches, his gripes, his problems and sometimes his praise. We are all familiar with this part of its work, but few of us realize how lost we would be without its other functions.

Everything the students of HSHS do is first approved by this remarkable organization composed of one delegate and one alternate delegate from each home room.

If a new club is to be organized at school, plans for it are brought before the Student Council, where a committee is immediately appointed; and the club is on its way. Every organization in HSHS made its debut in this way.

The finances of the Student Council are incremented by the pencil machine in the office and the candy store we all know and appreciate.

The money earned here goes toward the many activities the Student Council sponsors. These include the homecoming festivities, the Christmas Assembly, Civic Week, Twirp Week, Valentine assembly, and the numerous football and basketball dances.

This beehive of activity is under the able sponsorship of Mrs. Johnnie Mae Mackey. She and the officers went to a workshop in Conway last summer, where they learned firsthand of student council functions. Later this year they took another wonderful trip, this time to sunny Florida for a Southern Student Councils Convention held there. It was the first time Hot Springs had representation at such a meeting.

The officers of our student government must be capable citizens with strong ideals. They meet the "public eye" officially on a day reserved for campaign speeches. Before this, however, banners, posters, cards, and other campaign material flood the school with their exciting proclamations and persuasive pleas for votes. Then comes election day, when each student goes to the polls to cast his vote. Afterwards, the whole school eagerly awaits the election returns to see in whose hands the coming year's council will be.

Morning devotional is one of Julie Scudder's many responsibilities as Student Council secretary.

Charlie Brown invade much to the delight

The date is May 29, 1959. Another school year is over, but it will live again in the Old Gold Book. The staff of hard working students feel excitement, pride, and relief as we turn the pages of our book and remember how it all came about.

In September we were introduced to the operation of the annual business. Almost first on the agenda was the selection of a theme. From this moment on, Room 302 was an island of secrecy in the midst of a sea of curiosity. A thousand people tried in vain to learn the theme.

The advertising and circulation staffs immediately started their important tasks—the keyword of which was money.

Student pictures filled the room as October rolled around. Finish that layout! Take that picture! These words became familiar to the artists and photographers, for this was November, December, and January—a season of deadlines.

It was in March that a breathtaking announcement was released—the plan of the annual had been lost!

Throughout the year untiringly sat a small corps—the typists—chopping at the typewriter, adding their touch to Old Gold Book '59.

The writers on the staff, although few in number, were many in fresh ideas and sparkling adjectives.

The last deadline hopped in with the Easter bunny and took two hundred pages of life at HSHS to Texas.

Now it is May 29, 1959. The book is complete, and work has stopped on another well-recorded year.

Typists Cindy Watkins and Sandra Ripley have to work fast to meet the next deadline.

Business manager Jim Willcox discusses financial matters with Mrs. Hovell, business adviser.

First mail-it-away edition is dropped into the box by Julianne Kallsnick, co-editor, under the supervision of Stan Sanders, business manager, and Jim Chesnutt, co-editor.

Even the most observant student can't possibly know all the important happenings around HSHS. That is, he can't unless he reads the TORCHLIGHT. The school paper covers everything from the story of the last ball game to a list of those earning honor letters, from fashions to book reviews, from special assemblies to classroom activities.

Whenever anything happens, members of the journalism class collect all the facts and get the story in immediately so that the report will be in the next issue. In addition to articles, the paper always has timely editorials and clever features.

As soon as a dead line is reached, work for the next edition of the paper begins. This includes reporting events, writing features, taking pictures, making layouts, proofreading articles, and getting ads. All of these things have to be done before the paper can be printed.

The TORCHLIGHT is sent to many other schools in Arkansas and the United States; in return the staff receives papers from these schools. Many interesting ideas come from the other schools. Articles and features that are presented in new and clever setups are clipped and put into a scrapbook for further reference.

Journalism students report all the news as TORCHLIGHT gives complete coverage

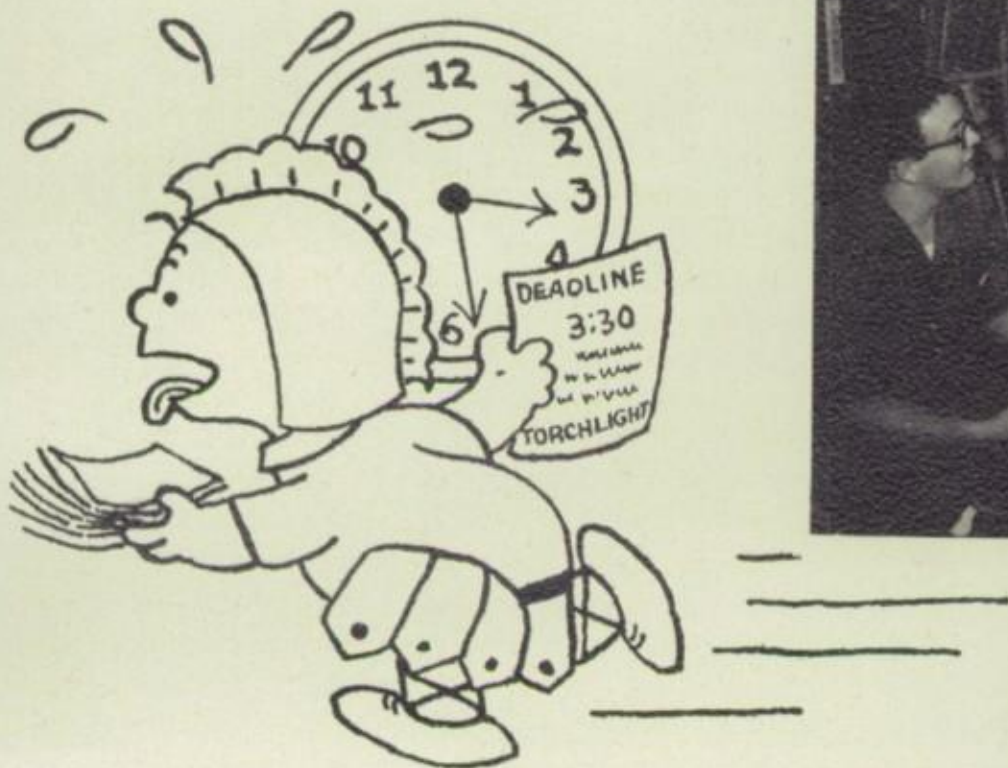

Coffee-break is well deserved by Betti Lu Robbins, feature editor; Franklin Hurst, photographer; and Annette Brown, advertising manager.

Master minds of the TORCHLIGHT are Mrs. McCrory, editorial adviser, and Herman Howell, printing adviser.

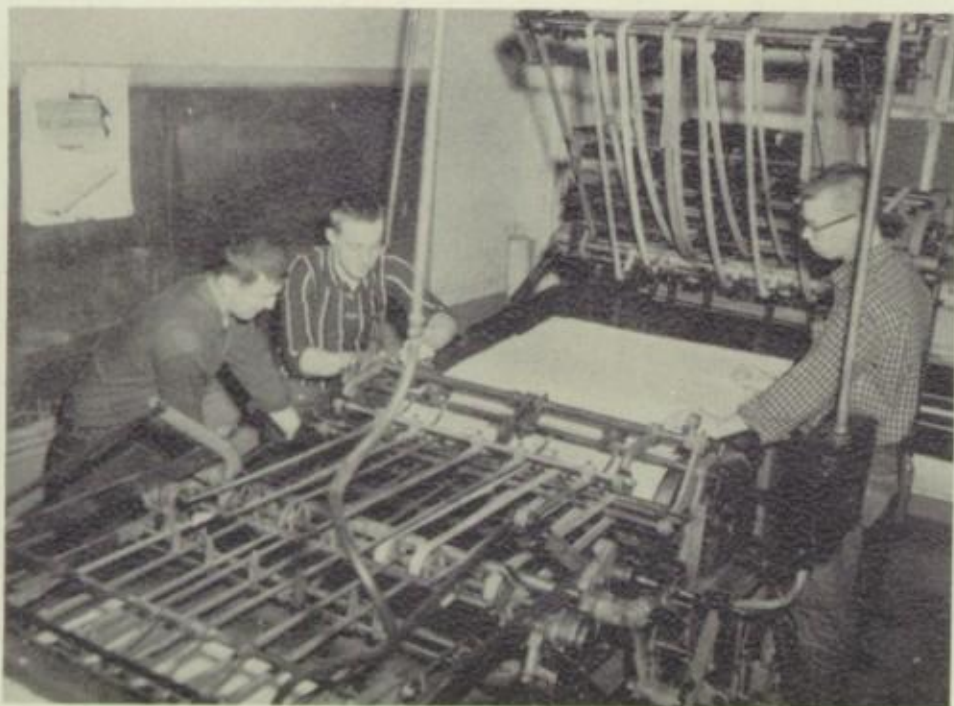

Feature and sports writers: Paul Johnson, Marnette Smith, Carol Harper, Betty Lou Duncan, and Lynne McAdoo.

News reporters: Martha Simpson, Susan Goltz, Katy Breitenberg, Dwane Edwards, and Linda Holiman.

Every two weeks Mac Lingo, Tom Longinotti, and Don Short help get the TORCHLIGHT ready for circulation.

Helplessly Bill Greeson sits at the Linotype as Bob Clark and Tommy Jordan pile more TORCHLIGHT copy down upon him.

Budding writing geniuses publish MOSAIC

Copy for the magazine is being checked by co-editors Judy Ross and Paul Johnson.

Artists Mary Beth Vanderpoorten and Kay Monk discuss the magazine cover design.

Reading, 'riting, and 'rithmetic are all taught in HSHS, but the "ritingest" class in school was the creative writing class. They wrote just about anything, from plays to essays, from short stories to book reviews.

To share their writing with others, they printed the magazine MOSAIC with selected works by each. This magazine was full of poems, jokes, essays, cartoons, stories, and philosophies. Everyone had a chance to show where he excelled.

Mrs. Lura Browne, sponsor, never knew what to expect when she made an assignment. Whatever it was, it was sure to bring out creativity, sometimes in unexpected ways.

Information for assignments didn't always come from books. The whole class made a trip through Reynolds Metals at Jones Mill, and with the information there acquired they wrote themes.

Competition is desirable in anything. For this reason they entered contests of all types. Sometimes a member of the class won; but win or lose, it was good experience for all.

The pride felt from seeing their writing in print, the fun throughout the year, and the wonderful experience in writing were just dessert for the hard work.

Thespians rebuild during active year

Dramatic entertainment is a chief source of pleasure for most Americans. Many enjoy watching this entertainment, but others derive most pleasure from participating in it. The Thespian Society is for those people who like to act and entertain others.

The aims of the society are two-fold: (1) to establish and advance standards of excellence in all phases of dramatic arts, and (2) to create interest in dramatic arts among boys and girls in the high school.

For the first time in two years the group presented a play—In Case of Murder, a thrilling suspense comedy.

In all of their projects the Thespian motto, "Act well your part; there all the honor lies," is remembered and upheld.

Officers: Mr. Donaldson, sponsor; Sonia Henninger, treasurer; Nora Dunson, vice president; Sue Murry, secretary; Stephanie Buchanan, president; Sandra Rutherford, historian; Sandra Nance, chaplain; Jane Bruce, parliamentarian.

"Hey cat—it was some play, wasn't it!" Don Malnik, student director, congratulates Mr. Donaldson.

Anchor Club serves others

What is the purpose of junior civic clubs? This is most clearly answered by the Anchor Club theme, "Building today our world of tomorrow."

The Anchor Club, sponsored by the Pilot Club of Hot Springs, lives up to this motto in all its activities. Its objectives are also quite clear. They are:

1. To develop initiative and leadership
2. To provide experience in living and working together
3. To serve the school and community
4. To co-operate with the school principals
5. To prepare for useful citizenship

Last summer the pretty girls who ushered at the Miss Arkansas Pageant were Anchor

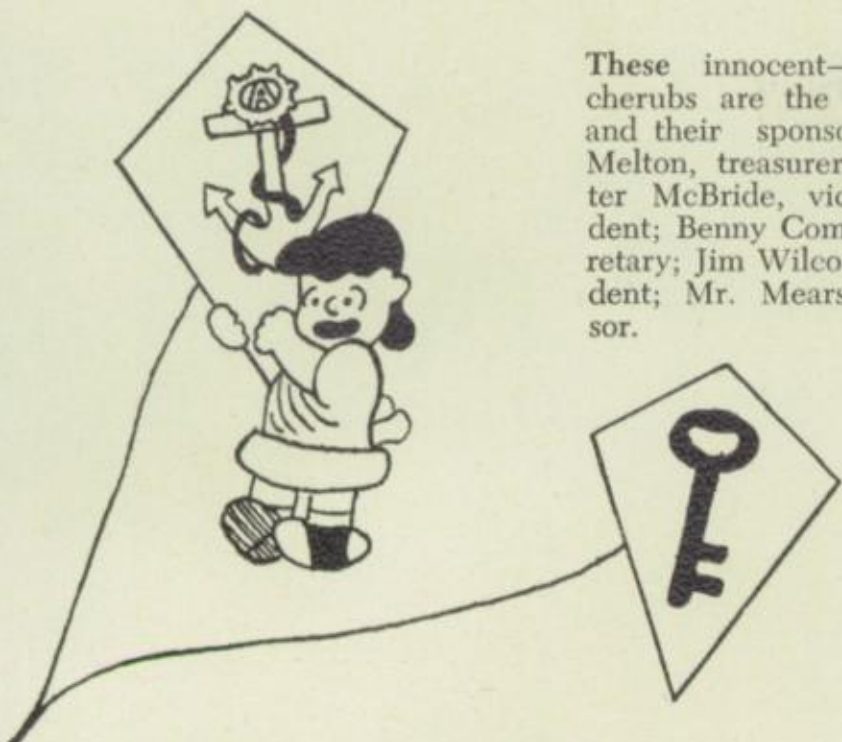

Club members. When the First Federal Savings and Loan Company held its opening, Anchor Club girls were pages.

Other projects undertaken were addressing five thousand envelopes for the March of Dimes, standing downtown collecting money for the Salvation Army Christmas Fund, publishing an introductory booklet on HSHS for sophomores, and sending money to the Foreign Children's Fund.

Officers: Mary Beth Vanderpoorten, treasurer; Susan Canine, secretary; Margaret Miller, vice-president; and Kay Monk, president.

These innocent-looking cherubs are the officers and their sponsor: Hal Melton, treasurer; Chester McBride, vice-president; Benny Combs, secretary; Jim Wilcox, president; Mr. Mears, sponsor.

Community helped by Key Club

Members of the Key Club have service to the community as their highest aim. This club was organized by the Hot Springs Kiwanis Club in 1956 and has been a very active group ever since.

Last summer they ushered at the Miss Arkansas Pageant, and during football season they sponsored Dad's Day. They raised money for the United Fund, and at Christmas they collected money for the Salvation Army. They also gathered greens for the Candlelight Service, and on Christmas Eve they attended the Midnight Service at St. Luke's Episcopal Church.

As an innovation this year they sponsored a cup for the Outstanding Senior Boy; and on Easter morning they attended the Sunrise Service.

Members of Hi-C assemble for worship.

Hi-C fills spiritual needs of students

Striving to promote a Christian atmosphere, high standards and ideals, friendship, and a better understanding among the students and faculty at HSHS are a group of young people known as the Hi-C's.

Early-morning meditation and a meeting are held each morning in Room 415. All students who wish to attend are invited.

Providing ministers for the basketball and football games was a project of the group, as well as distributing bookmarks of Bible readings ranging from Thanksgiving through Christmas. Emphasizing the true Christmas spirit, they also provided gifts for children in the city.

Leaders of Hi-C are Chester McBride, Betty Lu Duncan, Karynne Carney, Joe Garvin.

JCL and Spanish Clubs enliven languages

Language clubs both enhance and facilitate the study of foreign languages in HSHS. The Junior Classical League (for Latin students), under the sponsorship of Mrs. Buck, has over one hundred members. The JCL meets bi-monthly and offers programs of mythology and other topics of interest to the Latin students. Another function of the JCL is to contribute to the JCL newspaper Vox Civitatis. Every Latin class also has its individual club.

The Spanish Clubs, sponsored by Mr. Walker and composed of his classes, boast over one hundred forty members. The clubs meet monthly, and members see color filmstrips depicting Latin American life. Members also correspond with students in the Latin American countries.

JCL officers and sponsor are John Endicott, vice-president; Judy Sellers, secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Buck, sponsor; Delores Roberts, president; and Alice Davidson, reporter.

Christmas informal luncheon is replete with ice cream, cookies, and tree.

Library assistants form Library Club

For the purpose of getting library materials and people together, the Library Club was formed. The club is composed of the library assistants from each period.

Tables are lined with food as meetings are held every other Thursday at noon in the library. The programs consist of book reviews, discussions, and lectures—all of which deal with some aspect of the library and enable the girls to learn more of the duties of a librarian.

Stamping books, filing cards, shelving books, keeping magazines in order, and giving aid to those who seek it are among the duties of the assistants.

Miss Mary Clifton is the Library Club sponsor.

Teachers of tomorrow are an active group

"An apple for the teacher" is part of the dream of the members of the Future Teachers of America, who realize too that a great deal of hard work goes into the actual teaching profession. Meetings are held the second Wednesday of every month, when all business is taken care of and activities for the year planned.

A very active and hard-working organization, the Future Teachers spent a lot of time and effort this year in planning the annual Valentine's dance, which excelled in every respect.

Beaming faces appeared on Student Administration Day, for on this day the Future Teachers really shone!

A high light of the year was the annual convention held in Little Rock. Many members of the Hot Springs chapter attended, accompanied by Mrs. Edith B. Irons, Future Teacher sponsor. They not only learned more about the field and future responsibilities but also picked up helpful hints on ways to improve their own club.

FHA'S face homemaking with calm courage

"We are the Future Homemakers of America.
We face the future with warm courage,
And high hope.
For we have the clear consciousness of seeking
Old and precious values.
For we are the builders of homes,
Homes for America's future,
Homes where living will be the expression of everything
That is good and fair,
Homes where truth and love and security and faith
Will be realities, not dreams.
We are the future homemakers of America.
We face the future with warm courage,
And high hope."

In this, the creed of the Future Homemakers of America, many principles are found---principles upon which each FHA girl sets her goal.

Considering the home a sacred institution, each of these Future Homemakers has set out to learn secrets of making her home a good home by applying the practical arts of homemaking and by learning other essentials which make the ideals stated in their creed true realities, not dreams.

In home economics three degrees are offered: the Chapter Degree, which requires one semester; the Junior Degree, which requires two semesters; and the State Degree, which requires three years of study and participation in home economics. Each of these provides invaluable training for girls who will soon be wives and mothers in the homes of tomorrow.

Highlighting the year for the Future Homemakers was the annual state convention which they attended at Little Rock.

Radio and Projectionists Clubs are organized during the second semester

Two new clubs were formed near the end of the year—the Projectionists' Club and the Amateur Radio Club.

The Radio Club trains those who are interested in radio and its fundamental theories. It also teaches them the Morse code so that they can obtain radio licenses. The room at the top of the spiral stairs leading from the study hall is the ham radio room, and the station uses the call letters K-5 JEM.

To avoid the damaging of audio-visual equipment, the Projectionists' Club is training boys to operate the machines and be responsible for them. A three-week training session was held to make each of the boys a more capable projectionist.

HSHS honored as top DE Club in the state

Vocational students compose the Distributive Education Club.

Phillips' was the scene each month for a breakfast and professional meeting. Socials were held monthly in the various homes of the members.

Student Administration Day joined the sale of Savings Stamps, the annual Polio Auction, and the Employer-Employee Banquet among the year's projects. Sales went up, up, up on J. C. Penney Day, when DE students took charge of the store for one day.

True highlights of the year were two glorious announcements: the Hot Springs DE Club ranked as the outstanding club of the state and third in the nation.

Officers admire the club scrapbook which won first place in the state and third in the nation: Mozell Smith, president; Mike Moore, third vice-president; Carol Golden, secretary; Lena Spencer, historian; and Mike Ellison, sergeant-at-arms. ## Mu Alpha Theta gives emphasis to Math Mu Alpha Theta, better known as the Math Club, is one of the newer organizations in our high school. To engender keener interest in mathematics, to develop sound scholarship in the subject, and to promote enjoyment of mathematics are the basic purposes of this organization.

Mr. Wood, the sponsor, promises more than just work for the club members. Parties will soon become important among club activities, and a social magazine with news reports of other clubs over the state will be organized.

With all of the recent national emphasis on math, who can tell? Equations, triangles—possibly they will lead to future Einsteins.

Band Key Club promotes various band projects

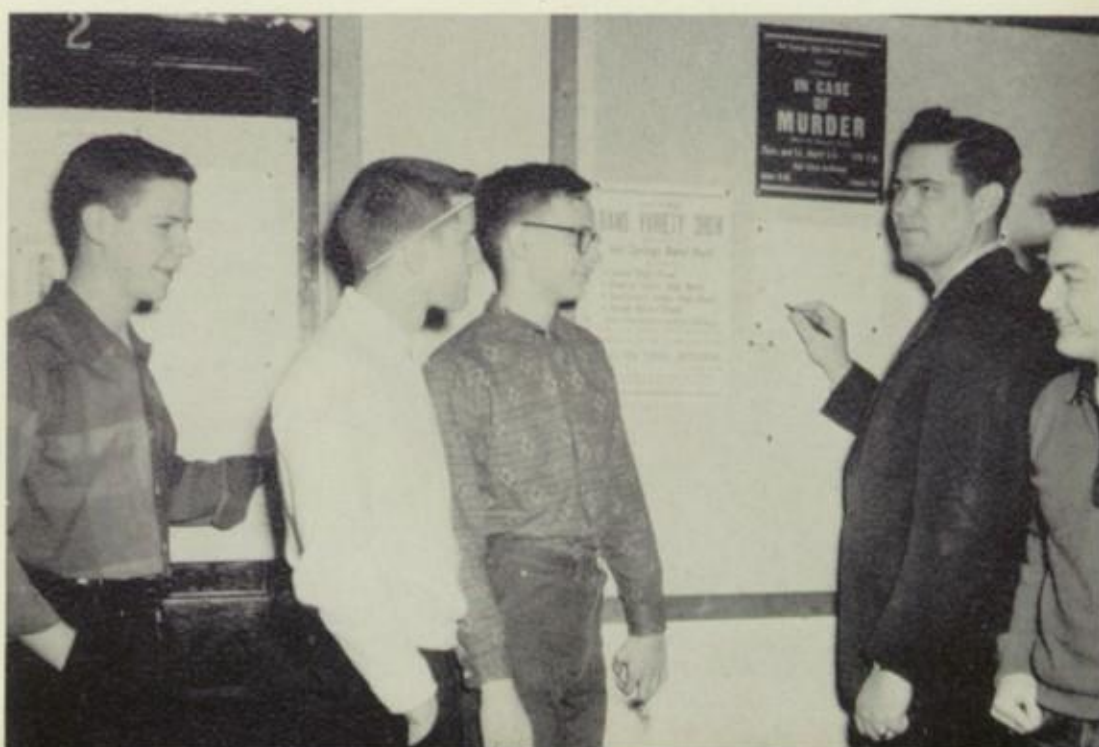

The Band Key Club is a comparatively new organization around Hot Springs High. This is only the second year it has been in existence. The purpose of the Band Key Club is to help promote better social relations among the members of the band. Mr. Virgil Spurlin is director and sponsor of both the Band and the Band Key Club.

Among the projects undertaken by the Band

Key Club members were promoting the annual Band Variety Show, distributing posters and handbills, advertising visiting bands, and having a party near the end of school.

The Band Key Club is gaining momentum and members each year. The key must be won by hard work and performances, and the band member deems it an honor to own one.

Officers: Stephen Jones, Bazel Winstead, George Grace, Mr. Spurlin, and Chester McBride.

Offering a splendid display of school spirit and all-out backing for the Trojans are HSHS's Peppers. Dressed in their uniforms of black skirts and white sweaters, they are always present at pep rallies and all ball games.

Among their activities are decorating for dances, advertising the athletic games, and forming an honor guard for the royalty at the homecoming games.

From the 150 girls in the Pep Squad, a selected group composes a newly-organized drill team which excels in precision drill. Numbering thirty-eight strong, the T-Steppers, decked out in their uniforms of white sweaters and short black skirts, display a grand performance at basketball games, football games, and parades as well.

The Peppers and the T-Steppers, working as one spirit building group, are a credit to HSHS.

Cheerleaders-boosters

"All for the Trojans stand up and holler!" This was the familiar cry at our football and basketball games during the season—the cry of the ever popular Trojan Cheerleaders. This snappy group of girls is responsible for mass enthusiasm and all-out support for the Trojan teams.

Wearing their uniforms of black and gold, the cheerleaders are symbolic of the true Trojan spirit. Rain or shine, the cheerleaders are loyal.

Adding much color and spirit to the 1958-59 athletic season, they number fourteen strong, ten regular and their four alternates.

Many, many long hours of strenuous practicing and hard work are put forth by the cheerleaders during the school and vacation time.

Win, lose, or draw, the Trojans know these girls are behind them—ready to take charge at all pep rallies and games to promote the "Trojan spirit" in the hearts and minds of all.

Beta Club completes a busy first year

In the spring of last year a chapter of the Beta Club was organized in HSHS and officers installed by officers from Little Rock Central High. Students with a B average or above who were judged worthy of special recognition for outstanding attainment and promise were eligible for membership.

At the state convention Hot Springs delegates presented a forum on the "Pros and Cons of Homogeneous Grouping."

NHS holds state convention here

As Phi Beta Kappa is to college students, so NHS is to high school students—a scholastic goal. The NHS recognizes superior achievement in high school. Second semester each year 5 percent of the junior class are accepted for membership, and the next fall 10 percent of this class (now seniors) become members. In the assemblies where students are given their bids nervous excitement runs high.

The Student Directory, with phone numbers and addresses of HSHS's population, is published each year by members of NHS. At Christmas time, to add to the spirit of the student body, they decorate the auditorium with traditional greens. The impressive Easter and Thanksgiving assemblies are their projects.

The biggest project undertaken this year was being host for the state NHS convention. Everyone worked hard preparing for it, but this work was rewarded by fun, companionship, and learning.

TOREADORS

TROUBADOURS

Troubadours and Toreadors comprise D. J.'s Traveling Chorus, a hundred-voice chorus that is nationally famous.

The Troubadours are thirty-six girls chosen for singing talent, personality, looks, and ability to get along with others. They are famous for the perfect blend of their voices. Fourteen alternates are chosen each year. Together they form a very important part of the Traveling Chorus.

The Toreadors are the other half of the renowned group. They have brought many honors to our Music Department by taking top honors in the state festivals.

With D. J.'s direction and guidance this is one of the top-rated high school choruses in America. As a result the chorus is asked to sing on many special occasions in and out of town. This is how the name Traveling Chorus originated.

The group has taken top honors in the state for the last fourteen years.

Rhythm predominates in the Trojan Band

The Trojan Band as it marches briskly down the street presents a striking picture to the on-lookers. Their bright black and gold uniforms are set off by the silver and copper instruments glistening in the sun. The audio effect is equally as grand as the visual, but the success story behind this music is one of much hard work and sacrifice on the part of each band member. Early-bird practices commence at 7:00 a.m. at Rix field in order to perfect the toe tapping marches as well as the intricate and precision formations.

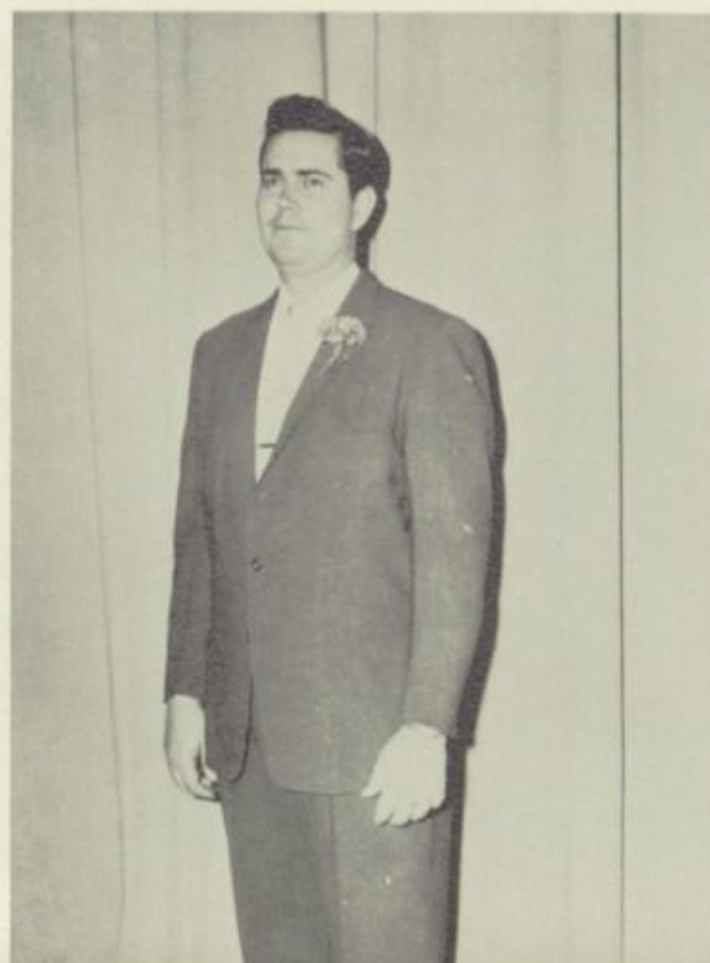

Marches are only a part of the band's repertoire. Classical music and some of the lighter airs are played with amazing skill and ability in the two annual concerts given during assembly and in the Band Variety Show. These well-received concerts give the band a chance to show a wider variety of their talents. Another major chance for the band to show off occurred when they were hosts for the state festival. This year, as usual, Trojan musicians carried off many top honors.

Their hard work and earnest endeavors always pay off in the long run, however, for once every two years Mr. Spurlin takes the whole band, bag and baggage, on a trip of unbelievable distances. This year's excursion was made to New Orleans, Louisiana. Although it is a time of fun, the members must be prepared to perform on tour. This, together with other smaller trips, usually by the pep band, serves as a partial reward to the deserving band members.

The life of football season of course is the game, but it's the little things that make it special. The crispness in the air gives an extra spark of vitality to the crowd, and an electric current of excitement reigns.

The cheerleaders in their bright black and gold uniforms are continually yelling for our team, but often the yelling of the spectators is a spontaneous action brought about by the game itself.

During half-time a special show adds to the glory of the night. Sometimes the Trojan Band marches, sometimes the Peppers or the Drill Team performs intricate formations. A visiting band from a college or from our opponent's town is occasionally present and honors us by performing.

The peppy music played by the band throughout the game keeps the spirits up and adds spice.

These little things, added to the thrill of a game well played, make up the glorious time known as football season.

Oblivious of crowd

Starting their '58-'59 football season with a whopping victory, HSHS Trojans downed the Nashville Scrappers 38-0 at the first home game. The honor of scoring the first TD went to Carl Akin as he ran his famed end sweep from four yards out. The following week, in driving rain and puddles of mud, the Malvern Leopards struck like lightning and caught the Trojans off guard, upsetting them 13-7.

Traveling for the first time in the season, the Trojans trekked to Benton and came home with the bacon. Taking a lateral from Carl Akin, Bob McClung ran for over forty-five yards and the first touchdown. From there on, the Trojans never failed in their crushing offense and brick-wall defense, defeating Benton's Panthers 26-0.

Playing their best defensive showing in many years, the dauntless Trojans held mighty Little Rock Central to an unimpressive six points. Before a capacity crowd at Rix Field, the Trojan defensive squad, led by Hal Melton and Eddie Mason, held the Tigers for three quarters, then gave way late in the third for the Tigers' only tally. Although we lost, this was a great moral victory for the Trojans, as they had never played so good a defensive game since 1943, when they held Little Rock to a scoreless tie.

The following week, the Trojans trampled the Texarkana Razorbacks into the dust on the opponents' field. Leading the Trojan attack were Akin, McClung, Francis, and Hodges. They held the Razorbacks scoreless till late in the fourth quarter, when Texarkana pushed across its lone tally. The game ended 28-7 in favor of the Men of Troy.

Trekking to North Little Rock, the Trojan warriors fell prey to a fierce passing and running attack and went down in defeat, 12-0. The Trojans almost scored several times but each time were thwarted with only scant yardage between them and the uprights. Outstanding in the game were Joe Pender's runbacks and Tommy Hodges' pass interception.

Traveling again, the Trojans locked horns with the Chickasaws of Blytheville. In sloggy mud and driving rain, the Chicks came from out of nowhere to wreak havoc with the Trojan defense and won by a lone point, 20-19. The Trojans scored all of their points in the first half, while holding the Chicks scoreless. Coming out for the second half, the Chicks uncorked a surprise aerial attack to score their 20 points. Quarterback Frankie Francis scored all of the three Trojan tallies.

Rix Field was the scene of the best game of the entire Trojan season as the Hot Springs boys, smarting from the defeat by Blytheville, bounced back and trounced the Fort Smith Grizzlies 26-13. This game, played before the fathers of the Trojan team, gave a real lift to HSHS morale. Again, Akin and McClung teamed up to hand the Grizzlies the defeat which ruined Fort Smith's hopes for the Big Nine Championship.

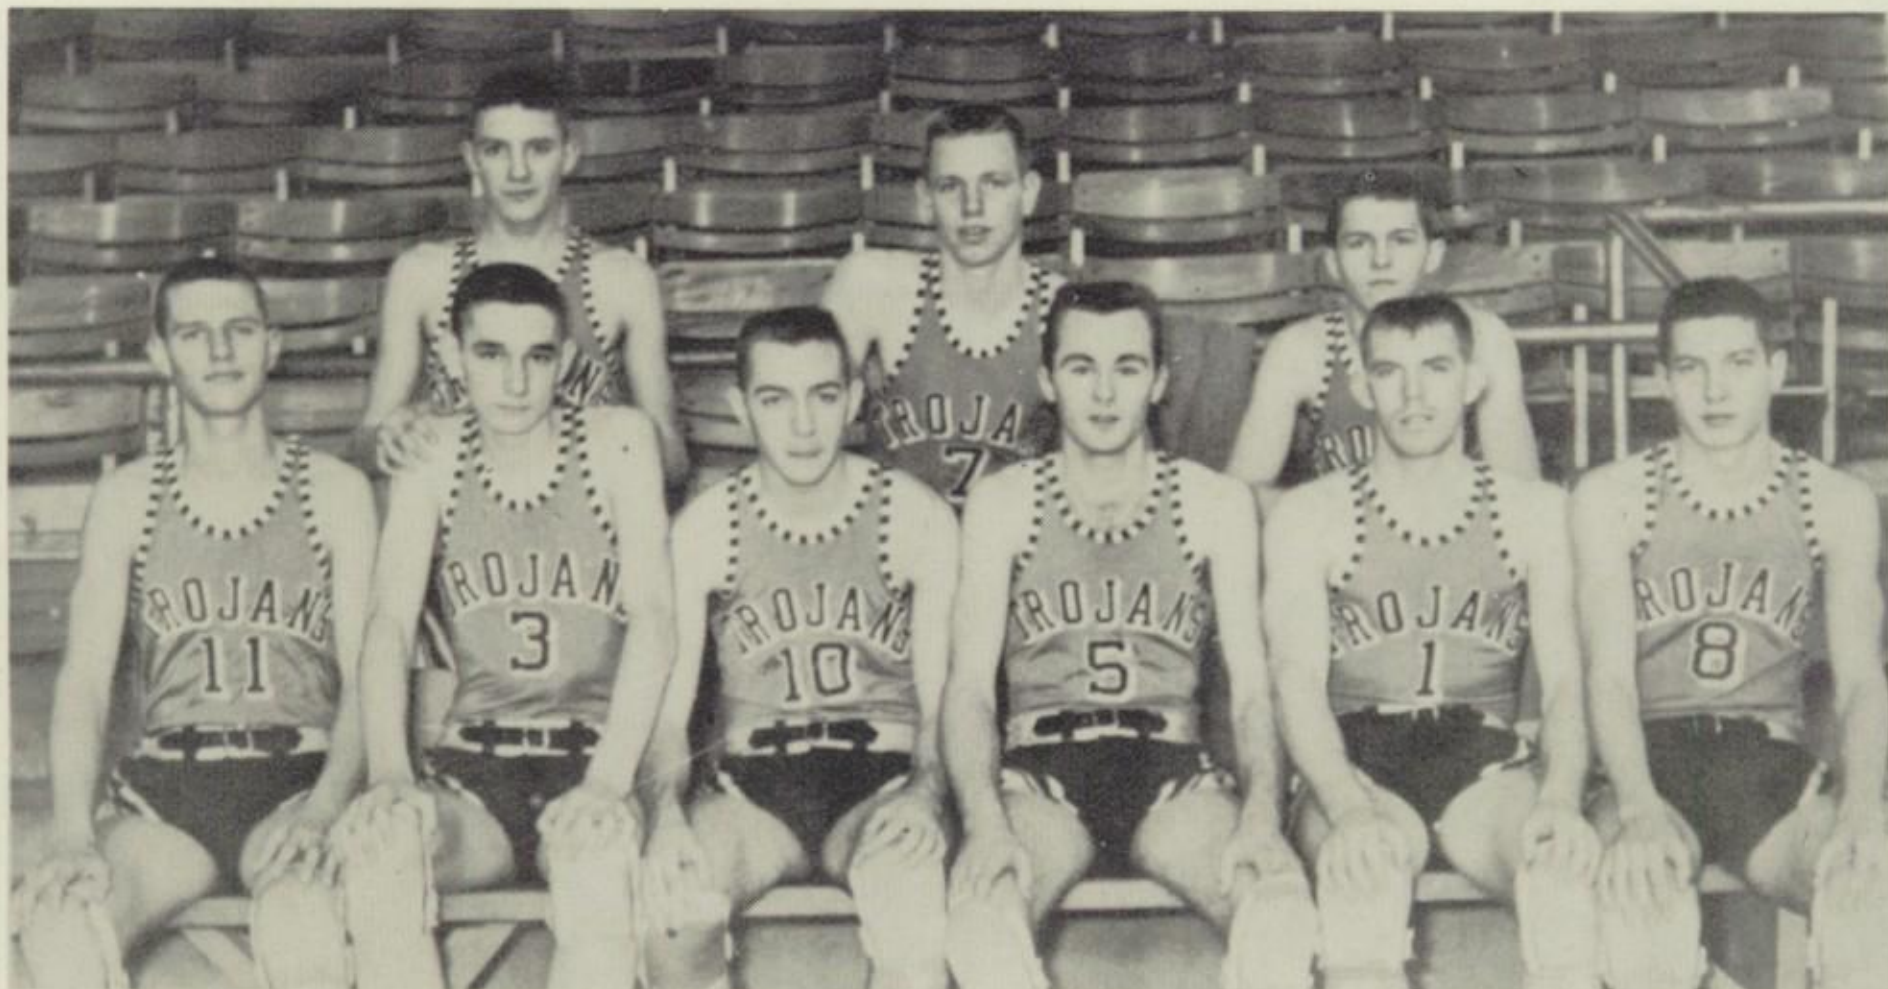

Watching the undefeated El Dorado Wildcats, the home-townners saw the last Trojan home game of the season. The Wildcats, who went on to an undefeated season and the Big Nine Championship, proved too big and powerful for the light, fast Trojan boys and won 19-0. In a drizzling rain, before a soaked Homecoming crowd, the Wildcats scored only one of their TD's on a drive of any length. The other two tallies came as the result of blocked Trojan punts.

Pine Bluff hosted the Trojans in their last game of the season and defeated them by a point, 21-20. Closing out a fair season, the Trojan players led all the way through the game until the last quarter, when they scored a TD to tie the game and then booted across the extra point for the win.

After gaining 60 yards, Danny Reynolds is trapped by Texarkana Razorbacks.

Basketball takes the spotlight after Christmas

Impeded severely by the lack of height, Coach Mac's Trojans had a rough season, but they managed to run and dribble their way to a respectable record.

In the season opener, the Malvern Leopards edged by the Trojans for a 46-41 win.

The next game was a different story as HSHS was sparked to a 72-49 win over Sheridan.

Hope came next under the Trojan onslaught. The Trojan five sank the goals for a 54-34 victory.

An outburst of accurate Zebra shooting in the fourth quarter enabled Pine Bluff to override the Men of Troy 61-44.

Another loss came the Trojans' way via Fort Smith. In their first conference home game, HSHS was downed 57-36.

Trojan fans were treated to a Big Nine victory when their squad played Texarkana. In a suspenseful contest, the Men of Troy came out ahead by a score of 40-37.

Coaches McCauley and Haynie discuss new plays of the Trojans.

Trojan B team completes a good season

The NLR Wildcats proved too wild for the Trojans, outshooting the undersized Trojan five to the tune of 45-37.

In the most exciting game of the year, the Trojans defeated the El Dorado Wildcats in a Big Nine tilt on the home court—final score, 46-44.

Blytheville outfoxed HSHS in two consecutive games by scores of 41-38 and 58-51.

1959 track team keeps quite active

The HSHS cinder team (better known as track) began practice in the spring under the able direction of Coach Haynie and Coach Herrington.

Out at Rix field the boys practiced high jump, broad jump, hurdles, relay races, pole vault, shotput, and several other events. Their eventual goal was to give a top representation at the State Track Meet.

Although one major track meet was canceled, the Trojans participated in one at Malvern and obtained second place in several of the events.

Four-minute mile is every trackman's goal.

A mark is accomplished as a Trojan clears the pole.

Mike Ellis aims for the cup.

Buddy Sigman is going for the green.

A group of boys come trooping over the golf course at the Country Club. They are the 1959 HSHS Golf Team. They tee off at the Hot Springs Country Club on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoons and at Belvedere Country Club Tuesdays and Thursdays.

On May 9 the Big Nine State Meet was held at Pine Bluff. The HSHS team attended this; and as a result of long hours on the practice green, they made an excellent showing.

SENIORS

A green-covered platform stands between what the past has given me and what the future may hold for me. For I am a senior, and it is on that platform that I will receive my coveted high school diploma, key to some of the portals of life. This is my big moment, but all of the activities during the year have set the scene for it.

The last pep assembly, the final chorus and band concerts left a lump in my throat that made me realize that the curtain was closing on my high school career. The Silver Tea, Junior-Senior Prom, class picnic, and Baccalaureate Service represented to me a pat on the back for twelve years of hard work. These activities honoring me as a senior left me with mixed emotions. I felt a challenge opposed by a reluctance, anticipation mingled with doubt.

By closing the door to high school, I am opening the door to a future which may well depend on the ideals I now set as my goal. For twelve years adults have been preparing me for their world; and now, like a young bird trying its wings, I have a chance to test the power of my knowledge.

JUNIORS

My junior year—a happy, exciting time that I experienced after losing the insignificance of a sophomore and before acquiring the superiority of a senior.

Autumn: Chill, crisp autumn air provided the perfect atmosphere for competitive football at its best. Thanksgiving came, and the school went all-out with decorative baskets chock-full of delicious food.

Winter: The beauty of Christmas was wondrously portrayed by a reverent pageant. Later in the year the sensational junior class play made its debut.

Spring: An envelope was handed out, a candle lighted, and a very honored junior was accepted into the National Honor Society. A list of names read over the P. A. system—these juniors will represent Hot Springs at Arkansas Boys' and Girls' State.

Final exams, graduation, and a beautiful prom finished a perfect year.

SOPHOMORES

As I came to Senior High last fall, I felt in a way that I was treading on hallowed ground. I was following the footsteps of many others before me. I must respect them and meet their standards.

Senior High hasn't been all roses. Many hours of hard work have been necessary for me to keep up with the fast pace of high school.

This year has been one of many "firsts." Only another sophomore can realize my thrill at the first pep assembly or my feeling of humility as I witnessed the National Honor Society initiation. It impressed upon me my responsibilities and the traditions I must uphold while in Senior High. My feeling of being left out or excluded was soon forgotten when I became a member of the band and chorus, the Anchor or Key Club, and the Beta Club and Student Council. My sophomore year has helped prepare me for the future, for everyone must start from the bottom. As a sophomore, I am proud to be a member of this class and even prouder to be a student at HSHS.

ARMISTICE DECLARED

Hot Springs, May 29—The present war will never end, but a three months' armistice has been declared. When the Trojans stopped to review their gains before rallying forces for another year, they discovered these truths:

FRUSTRATION is demoralizing, but it need not stalemate progress.

IGNORANCE is an opiate to the indolent, a challenge to the alert.

INTOLERANCE blinds its followers to a true perspective of the worth of human beings. In a democratic society the little man is as important as the big. He is the majority. Every big man was first a little man, but the important fact is that he grew: he did not remain little. The world needs people like Charlie Brown—the LITTLEST TROJAN.
